WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 12.

HIS NEW FLYING MACHINE.—An enterprising saloon keeper on Grand River avenue is always on the lookout for any novelty that may draw customers, and perhaps this fact may have been known to a hand-faced old man who entered the place the other day and confidentially began:

"If I could draw a crowd of one hundred men to your place here, what sum would you be willing to give me?"

"What do you mean?" asked the saloonist.

"It was known that I had in my possession a flying machine, and that it was to fly from your door here on a certain day and hour, wouldn't the novelty be sure to attract a large crowd?"

"Yes, I think so. If you have a flying machine and want to show it off here to-morrow night, I'll give you a dollar, and if it is to fly from your door here on a certain day and hour, wouldn't the novelty be sure to attract a large crowd?"

"All orders by mail promptly executed."
